

PROF DR ANWAR ALI JAMALI
EDITOR JPUMHS

Dear Editor,

I am writing to express my admiration for the Journal of Pakistan University of Medical and Health Sciences JPUMHS and its commitment to publishing high-quality research in the field of medical and health sciences. As a reader and potential author, I believe that JPUMHS has the potential to reach excellence and become a leading journal in its field.

To support this goal, I would like to share a few suggestions that might help increase the interest among both authors and readers further.

1. Broaden the scope of published articles: Consider including a wider range of article types, such as review articles, case reports, and qualitative studies, to attract a broader audience.
2. Enhance online presence: Improve the journal's website and social media presence to increase visibility and reach a global audience.
3. Foster international collaborations: Encourage collaborations between authors from different institutions and countries to promote diversity and innovation in research.
4. Provide timely and constructive feedback: Ensure that authors receive prompt and helpful feedback on their submissions to improve the quality of published articles.

I sincerely appreciate the dedication of the editorial team and reviewers in upholding the high standards and exceptional criteria of JPUMHS. Your hard work and commitment play a pivotal role in the journal's success.

I look forward to seeing the journal's continued growth and success.

Sincerely,

Regards,

Dr. Asma Shabbir
MBBS, M.Phil, PhD Scholar
Associate Professor
Department of Pathology
Sindh Medical College
Jinnah Sindh Medical University
Karachi-Pakistan